Use magnetic letters or letter cards to develop your child's listening and thinking skills. Arrange the letters to form the word bun. Then give your child the following clue and have him change the letter to make the correct word. Change a letter in bun to make a word that means an insect (bug). Continue with another clue. Change a letter in bug to make a word that means to put your arms around someone (hug). Continue the activity with other c-v-c words; each time giving a clue and having your child make the new word.
